Session: Investing in Immigration:
How Capital, Visas & Status Converge

Minwon Cho, Esq., is the founding attorney at CHO LAW LLC, where he focuses on business immigration and investment-based strategies. He advises multinational companies, entrepreneurs, and investors on U.S. immigration pathways, including those tied to real estate development and investment projects.

With more than a decade of experience, Minwon has helped clients navigate complex visa processes, structure cross-border investments, and establish new business ventures in the U.S. He is recognized for his strategic, client-focused approach and his deep understanding of how immigration and real estate intersect to drive economic growth.
